<th>Law No. 190/2012 - Anticorruption Law</th>
<th>Constitutes the reference point for policies aimed at fighting corruption and puts in effect a complex institutional and organizational plan referred to models mainly based on prevention.</th>
</tr>
</thead>
</table>

Concerning the general anticorruption model, the norms introduced by Law No. 190/2012 find an essential complement in the Legislative Decrees No. 33 and No. 39 of 2013, to which the law has delegated the implementation of important principles and guidelines with reference, respectively, to the reorganization of the law concerning the obligations of publicity and transparency and to the system of ineligibility and incompatibility of positions in public administration and in the Presidential Decree No. 62/2013 which sets out the rules of conduct which all public employees have to respect.

With Law No. 190/2012, the legislator, establishing a system for combating corruption, focuses on prevention tools. The prevention of corruption is based on a model of regulation that provides for planning and control activities, with a “cascade” planning model that affects all levels of government and that is founded on four instruments - transparency, training, codes of conduct and risk-analysis - which are in part already present, except the last, in the Italian public administrations. The National Anticorruption Plan (PNA) is the heart of this planning model, and each public administration is required to adopt a Three Year Plan for the Prevention of Corruption (PTCP) using the PNA as the basis to be followed. These planning tools assume a fundamental importance in the system devised by the legislator, as long as the PNA ensures the coordination of national and international strategies for the prevention of corruption in public administration, whereas the PTCP identifies, on the basis of the first, the specific risks of corruption in each administration and the necessary measures to prevent them. Appropriate forms of coordination with respect to the other documents required by law are also necessary, first among all the Three-year Program for Transparency and Integrity and the codes of conduct of public employees.

The PNA is set up by the Department of Public administration and approved by the A.N.A.C. - “National Anticorruption Authority for evaluation and transparency of public administrations”. The approval of the first PNA on September 2013, represented an important and necessary step to implement Law No. 190/2012 as it created the premises for administrations to prepare their PTPC.

The PNA allows for a unified and strategic planning of the activities to prevent and combat corruption in the public sector and has been calibrated for the pursuit of measurable objectives and for the identification of specific responsibilities. The PNA is structured as a programmatic tool, subjected to an annual update, with the inclusion of indicators and targets in order to make strategic objectives measurable and to ensure the monitoring of the possible deviations from these targets arising from the implementation of the PNA.

As mentioned, the norms introduced by Law No. 190/2012, find an essential complement in the Legislative Decree No. 39/2013, to which the law has delegated the implementation of important principles and guidelines with reference to the system of ineligibility and incompatibility of positions in public administration. The Legislative Decree No. 39/2013 has stepped in to regulate the hypothesis of ineligibility and incompatibility of positions in the public administrations with the clear intention to avoid any form of interference or confusion between politics and administration in order to prevent corruption and conflicts of interest and to ensure the respect of the constitutional principle of impartiality of administrative action.

YES ☒ NO ☐

b. In the private sector

YES ☐ NOX ☐
34. Have changes to whistle blower protection legislation been proposed or implemented since the last monitoring report?

YES □ NO □

If yes, please provide details.

Directives for the effective implementation of the rules on the protection of whistleblowers have been provided by the National Anti-Corruption Plan prepared by the Department for Public Administration and approved by the National Anti-Corruption Authority in September 2013.

The Plan provides all the measures that the public administrations should take in their Three-year Plans for the Prevention of Corruption in 2014:
- provide different channels for receiving reports
- provide reserved codes for the identification of the complainant
- prepare models for receiving reports
- establish duties of confidentiality for all those who receive or become aware of the report.

To this end the National Plan recommends the creation of a computerized system for reporting and provides that the protection of complainants will also be supported by effective awareness, communication and training through the website of each public administration.

As recommended by the Working Group on Bribery of the OECD, the National Plan provides that the protection must be designed to also protect employees who report suspected cases of foreign bribery referred to in article 322 bis of the Criminal Code.

35. Since the last progress report, has your country implemented any measures to protect journalists reporting incidents of corruption?

If yes, please provide details

PROCUREMENT

36. Does your country publish online any of the following?

a. Procurement laws and policies including any legislation defining the use of exceptions

YES X □ NO □

b. Selection and evaluation criteria

YES X □ NO □

c. Awards of contracts and modifications of contracts

YES X □ NO □

the subject of the contract notice; the economic operators invited to tender; the successful contractor; the amount of the award; the time limit to complete the work, service or supply; the amount paid. Each year, by the end of 31 January, summary tables providing information, freely available in digital format, on the previous year are published in order to allow data assessment, also for statistical purposes. Contracting authorities shall transmit such information in digital format to the Authority for the Supervision of Public Contracts that shall publish it on its web site, in a section freely available to all citizens, listed by typology of contracting authority and Region. The Authority, by means of its own deliberation, identifies the relevant information and the transmission method. Moreover, each year by the end of 30 April, the Authority shall transmit to the Court of Auditors the list of administrations which have not provided and published, in whole or in part, the information in digital format. According to art. 6, paragraph 11 of the Code of Public Contracts, if the information is not provided or false information has been provided, administrative sanctions can be inflicted by the Authority. The modifications of contracts are not published online; according to art. 6, par. 7 letter h.4 of the Legislative Decree 163/2006 (Code of Public Contracts), the Authority for the Supervision of Public Contracts in its annual report to the Parliament (also available online) makes an analysis on the modifications of contracts.

37. Since the last progress report, have any new initiatives to promote public procurement transparency and integrity been proposed or implemented?

If yes, please provide details.

Ministerial Decree n. 55 of 3/4/2013 introduces provisions in the field of issue, transmission and receipt of electronic invoices to be applied to public administrations.

In order to comply to such decree, a specific application has been implemented on the Italian eProcurement platform, managed by Consip, in order to allow to all SMEs registered to the system to issue electronic invoices towards public administrations.

The practice is already in use on the MEPA, the public emarketplace for the purchase of goods and services below the EU threshold.

38. Are there regulations and procedures for public procurement officials to govern conflicts of interest?

YES ☑ NO ☐

If yes, please provide details.

Article 1, paragraph 41 of Law No. 190/2012 introduces the article 6bis “conflict of interest” in the chapter II of Law No. 241/1990 on administrative procedures. According to the article 6bis the responsible for the procedure and the holders of the offices in charge of adopting the opinions, the technical evaluations, the acts occurring within the proceedings and the final provisions must abstain in case of conflict of interests and must signal every situation of conflict, also potential.

Articles No. 6 and 7 of the Presidential Decree no. 62/2013 containing the “regulation bringing the code of conduct of the public employees, pursuant to article 54 of the Legislative Decree no.165 of 30th March 2001” govern, respectively, “notice of financial interests and conflicts of interest” and “obligation of abstention” with reference to every potential situation of conflict thus covering even the public procurement context. Article 14, paragraph 2 of the Presidential Decree No.62/2013 governs specifically contracts and the others negotiating acts stating that the employee does not conclude, on behalf of the administration, procurement, supply, service finance, or insurance contracts with companies with which the employee has signed contracts privately or from which he has received benefits in the previous two years with the exception of those concluded through prescribed forms. In the event that the administration concludes contracts with companies with which the employee has signed contracts privately or from which he has received benefits in the previous two years, he must abstain from participating in decision-making processes and in the activities related to the execution of the contract.

Moreover, the National Anticorruption Plan, in paragraph 3.1.5 “obligation of abstention in case of conflict of interest” states that public administrations must undertake adequate initiatives to inform their personnel about the obligation of abstention and the behaviour to follow in case of conflict of interest.

39. Are companies that have been found to be involved in corrupt contracting practices excluded from future participation in public tenders?

YES ☒ NO ☐
If yes, please provide details.
Law 190/2012 (Art. 38) introduces provisions for these cases.

40. If yes, is the debarment list of International Financial Institutions taken into account?

YES ☐ NO ☒

41. Are the names of companies excluded from future participation in public tenders made publicly available?

YES ☐ NO ☒
If yes, please provide details.

DISCLOSURE BY PUBLIC OFFICIALS

42. Does your country require disclosure by public officials of:

a. Income

YES ☒ NO ☐

b. Assets

YES ☐ NO ☒
Within the framework of the Anticorruption Law and in execution of its principles, two Legislative Decrees have been issued in relation to the disclosure requirements:

The Legislative Decree No. 33/2013, "Reorganization of the regulations concerning the obligations of publicity, transparency and diffusion of information by public administrations”. Specifically: the article 14 is related to the “publication requirements concerning the members of the political bodies”; the article 15 refers to “publication requirements concerning the holders of management positions and consultants”.

The Legislative Decree No. 39/2013 provides the rules concerning the absence of conflicts of interest, both at regional and local level, and the incompatibility between management positions in public administrations, in bodies under public control, political offices and professional assignments.

According to the D.P.R. n. 62/2013, art. 4 (Gifts and benefits), public employees and civil servants do not ask gifts or other benefits.

The employee does not accept, for himself or for others, gifts or other benefits, except for those of modest value occasionally given as part of normal courtesy relationships and as part of international customs.

In any case, regardless of whether the act constitutes a crime, the employee does not ask, for himself or for others, gifts or other benefits, even of modest value, as an award for performing or having performed his duties, from subjects that can draw benefits in relation to the execution of these duties or from subjects to whom he is or is about to be given the task to perform his duties.

The employee does not accept, for himself or for others, from an own subordinate, directly or indirectly, gifts or other benefits, except for those of modest value. The employee does not provide, directly or indirectly, gifts or other benefits to his own superior, except for those of modest value.

Gifts and other benefits anyway received out of the cases permitted by this article, are immediately made available, by the same employee who received them, to the Administration to be returned or to be donated for institutional purposes.

Gifts or other utilities of modest value are those that do not exceed, indicatively, the amount of 150 euro, even in the form of discount. The codes of conduct adopted by each public administration may provide lower limits and may even exclude the possibility of receiving gifts, according to the characteristics of the institution and to the type of tasks performed.

PUBLIC OFFICIALS’ IMMUNITIES

43. Does your country provide immunities from prosecution to individuals holding public offices for corruption related offences?
a. All public office holders

b. Certain public office holders

c. No immunities available to public office holders

d. While in office

e. Permanently

If yes, which public office holders are immune and if immunity is limited, please explain.

In the Italian legal framework there are no laws providing the immunity for public office holders, except for the President of the Republic (art. 90 of the Italian Constitution) and the members of the Parliament (art. 68 of the Italian Constitution).

EDUCATIONAL INITIATIVES

44. Is your country involved in any of the following international anti-corruption educational initiatives?

International Anti-Corruption Academy

UNODC Anti-Corruption Academic Initiative

Other international anti-corruption educational initiative(s)

If yes, please provide details.

ANAC (Italian National AntiCorruption Authority) is currently involved in several international anti-corruption educational activities. As a partner of the Council of Europe, ANAC will organize educational and training activities in Morocco on 16-17 2014 October as well as in Tunisia in November. In 2014 ANAC has also been engaged in bilateral initiatives with Uzbekistan, Kosovo and Nigeria.

45. Does your country provide anti-corruption educational/training programs for officials, including public office holders?
i) About training of police services:

Corruption is a subject matter in the training of the Italian police forces personnel. In the framework of the Italian National Police officers’ training this subject is included in the Criminal Law Module of the second level master course in Security Sciences that is conducted in cooperation with the “Sapienza” University of Rome. Likewise, international corruption is dealt with in the criminal disciplines covered by the courses organized in the Carabinieri Corps schools and over 2,000 Carabinieri officers are trained yearly on this specific subject.

The above also applies to the Guardia di Finanza, whose specific tasks imply an enhanced personnel training through the regular organization of dedicated conferences and seminars in this operative sector.

In addition to the training organized by the police forces it is worth highlighting the activity carried out by the European Police Academy CEPOL, which organized two courses in Rome on money laundering with the participation of trainers/experts of the Bank of Italy, the Ministry of Treasury and the academic world.

Moreover, CEPOL organized various courses at European level ("Economic and Financial crime -- Investigating Corruption", "Fight Corruption", "Money Laundering", "Investigating and Preventing Corruption") with the participation as trainers of officers from the Italian National Police, the Guardia di Finanza and the Carabinieri Corps.

The Italian CEPOL National Unit participated in the "Euromed III Police Project" by sending a Guardia di Finanza trainer to the course "Fight against International Corruption", which was held in the United Kingdom from 10 to 14 December 2012.

About training of prosecutors and judges.

In 2013 the new Scuola Superiore della Magistratura – SSM (Superior School of the Judiciary) entered into functioning while the Consiglio Superiore della Magistratura abandoned its competences in the field of judicial training.

In 2013, in the framework of the continuous training program for judges and prosecutors, the SSM organized the course nr. P13045 devoted to the subject of the investigations in the field of corruption; one entire working group was devoted to the subject of international bribery.

In 2014 a new project (course P14042) will be devoted to the same subject and an entire session will deal with the issue of international bribery.

In the framework of initial training, the 2 programs for magistrates newly appointed (Magistrati in Tirocinio Ordinario - M.O.T.) in 2012 and 2013 have included conferences and training on the subject of corruption and corruption related offences.
A rough estimation of each continuous training course attendance is of about 90 magistrates while the global number of M.O.T. who have went through an initial training until now (from the opening of the SSM) is of 645.

46. Does your country or business associations in your country promote anti-corruption training for the private sector?

YES X ☐ NO ☐

If yes, please provide details.

Confindustria (main organisation representing Italian manufacturing and services companies) promotes information and training activities focused on corruption.

47. Has your country disseminated G20 products and documents developed by the group with relevant domestic authorities?

YES X ☐ NO ☐

If yes, please provide details.

G20 ACWG documents are regularly circulated to the relevant Italian authorities.

JUDICIARY

48. Has your country taken any measures to promote and disseminate the Bangalore Principles for Judicial Integrity? YES

If yes, please provide details

The Bangalore Principles are mentioned or recalled in a number of documents of the Consiglio Superiore della Magistratura – CSM (the body granting the judicial independence of the Italian Judiciary, of the different networks to which the CSM participate at the European level (European Network of the Council of the Judiciary – ENCJ; European Judicial Training Network) or of the Associazione Nazionale Magistrati (Italian Association of Judges). 49. Has your country taken other measures to promote the accountability and independence of the Judiciary? YES

If yes, please provide details

The Italian Constitution itself provides that the Consiglio Superiore della Magistratura – CSM is the body responsible for granting the independence and the accountability of the Judiciary (see art. 104 and followings)
Italian Constitution (excerpts)

Art. 104
The Judiciary is a branch that is autonomous and independent of all other powers. The High Council of the Judiciary is presided over by the President of the Republic

Art. 105
The High Council of the Judiciary, in accordance with the regulations of the Judiciary, has jurisdiction for employment, assignments and transfers, promotions and disciplinary measures of judges.

Art. 107
Judges may not be removed from office; they may not be dismissed or suspended from office or assigned to other courts or functions unless by a decision of the High Council of the Judiciary, taken either for the reasons and with the guarantees of defence established by the provisions concerning the organisation of Judiciary or with the consent of the judges themselves,
The Minister of Justice has the power to originate disciplinary action.
Judges are distinguished only by their different functions.
The state prosecutor enjoys the guarantees established in the prosecutor’s favour by the provisions concerning the organisation of the Judiciary.

Art. 108
The provisions concerning the organisation of the Judiciary and the judges are laid out by law.
The law ensures the independence of judges of special courts, of state prosecutors of those courts, and of other persons participating in the administration of justice.

Art. 110
Without prejudice to the authority of the High Council of the Judiciary, the Minister of Justice has responsibility for the organisation and functioning of those services involved with justice.
